

Kenneth M. Clark

Expert Senior Meteorologist
ken.clark@accuweather.com

385 Science Park Road
State College, PA 16803

afb.accuweather.com/forensic-services

Professional Experience

- AccuWeather, Inc.
 - Part-time at AccuWeather, Inc.: 1974-1975
 - Full-time at AccuWeather, Inc.: June 1975 to 2018
 - Member of Executive Staff: 1981-1987
 - Expert Senior Meteorologist: Since 1981
 - Member of Executive Council: 1982-1987
 - Director of Forecaster Training: 1983-1987
 - Director of WeatherShow™ Service: Since April 1990
 - Forensics Department: Since January 1993
 - Consulting Meteorologist: 2018 to present
 - Member of Forecaster Operations Group: Since September 1988

Education

- The Pennsylvania State University
 - B.S. Meteorology, 1975

Professional Affiliations

- American Meteorological Association
- National Weather Association

Publications

- January 1994: "The Relationship Between the Sales of Cutter Insect Repellent and the Weather in the Southcentral and Northeast Sales Regions", Report to Miles Laboratories. (Joint Author). Sobel, Clark, Adams and Antic. AccuWeather, Inc. State College, Pennsylvania

Honors and Accomplishments

- Numerous speeches to various civic groups, school and church organizations with regards to AccuWeather, Inc. and weather related topics.
- Admitted as Expert Forensic Meteorologist Witness at numerous trials and depositions throughout the United States, 1993 through present.
- Co-author of numerous reports documenting findings of research projects to determine weather conditions at particular times and places in the past.
- Operational weather forecaster preparing forecasts daily for sites all across the United States since 1974.

Personal Highlights

- Born in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania but raised in Kalamazoo, Michigan and Sarasota, Florida.
- Earned B.S. in Meteorology from the Pennsylvania State University, 1975.
- Member of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet